

The Diana Prayer

“I come to you with love and only love.

It is what we are.

It is all that there is and ever will be.

Embrace that thought and embrace it now.
It is all that you will ever need to know.

Trust. Trust in us as we trust in you. We are with you always,
one and the same.

You are never alone and in your sorrow we sit with you.

The path is golden and straight-simply carry yourself forward and when you are tired we will carry you.

‘Til we meet again my friend, ‘til we meet again.

Shalom.”

Please share this with everyone you know. To quote Diana again, “It isn’t just about loving each other and changing the world; it is loving everything to change the world.”
